Czar's Fleet Moving on Japanese Ports and Will Bombard the First-Mikado Sending Out Over One Hundred Thousand Soldiers.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16. — Exclusive Dispatch] The Herald this morning publishes the following from its correspondents: PORT ARTHUR, via Chefoo, Monday, 3 p.m. (Eastern time)—The Russian fleet is moving in the direction of Korea, or South Japan. It is reported that the Russian fleet intends to bombard the nearest port, and will leave the forts to defend Port Arthur. Two of the vessels damaged in the first engagement have been repaired and have joined the fleet. The third probably will be repaired within a week.

CHINA PLACING PICKED ARMY.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PEKING, Feb. 15 [Exclusive Dispatch.]—Harassed by indescribable atrocities on the part of the troops of the Czar in Manchuria, a picked Chinese army is being concentrated on the northern frontier, and if opportunity presents itself, this army will become an ally of 'Japan. China's armed strength at present is believed to exceed that of any previous time in her history. The strengthening of the mili- countries, it behooves China to take tary position of the kingdom has progressed until, in the opinion of both the Chinese and foreign experts, China could throw a formidable weight into the scale in favor eral and the Governors of all prov

Whether China's neutrality can be maintained is doubtful. Chinese arriving on the west coast of Liao Tung Gulf from the scene of Russian activity in Manchuria say that the Czar's troops are stripping the population of everything and sweeping out the region between New. chwang and Yalu. These stories are spreading in North China and are arousing the people.

The government says the picked troops now being concentrated on the northern frontier are intended solely to defend Chinese neutrality, but a crisis may arise to cause them to be hurled against the Russian usurpers of the home land of Manchus.

Yuan Shi Kai and other eminent Chinese urge an alliance between China and Japan. They also advise that the whole official machinery of state be devoted to the effort to teach Chinese to discriminate between Russians and other foreigners. Meantime, they think the people should be told that the Russians are temporarily the only enemy sive Dispatch.] The proposal of the neutralization of China is regarded here as being in the interest of the belligerents, as it would prevent troops from being sent around by Chinese territory. It would also give satisfaction to Russia, as the exception of Manchuria from the proposed arrangement is a practical admission by the powers of Russia's preponderant position there. Russia's action, however, is approved by Germany, in asking for a fuller definition of the proposal. At the same time, it is considered that suspicious felt at St. Petersburg are comprehensible, as the powers have made no effort to apply the same treatment to Kores, though that country has also made a declaration of neutrality here as being in the interest of the

SERGEANT BROWN RETIRES.

AFTER FORTY YEARS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—The oldest enlisted man in point of service in the United States army retired today. He is Ordnance Sergeant George M. Brown and for over forty years he has been in the service of his country. Sergt. Brown was born in Jefferson county, N. Y., fifty-nine years ago, On April 77, 1861, he enlisted in the Thirty-fifth New York Volunteers, since which enlistment he had an excellent and unbroken record. He was in most of the battles of the Virginia campaign during the Civil War and at the close of that struggle was transferred to the Sixteenth United States Infantry. During the Civil War he was wonded in action and was captured and imprisoned in Libby Prison. At the time of the Spanish War he was ordnance sergeant at Fort Marion, St. Augustine, Fla., and he also served in the Philippines. OOD DRENCHING J DOWN FOR TODAY.

Another Energetic Storm.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Another energetic storm struck the Pacific seaboard yesterday and is now central off the Washington and Oregon coasts, with indications of moving east over a northern path, but with a possibility of moving south. It has been accompanied by much rain in northern sections and strong gales from the southeast, out at sea. Storm warnings are displayed from Port Hardroft north. It is probable that the gales and the rain will continue from San Francisco north.

Many Sheep Killed.

Many Sheep Killed.

REDDING, Feb. 15.—News has just reached this city via Alturas of the killing of 5000 sheep and the robbing of the sheepmen near Bilver Lake, just across the line from Modoc county. The sheep belonged to Benham Bros. of Modoc, and were being ranged about twenty miles east of Christmas Lake. A few nights previous to the killing three masked men entered the herder's cabin, held him up and robbed him of all the ammunition be had. Three days later a body of mounted men, armed with knives and guns, made a dash into his camp and slaughtered the sheep. The cattlemen are up in arms and all the cattle camps in Modoc and Southern Oregon are being guarded.

DEATH CAME FOR HANNA.

Several Bad Sinking Spells Preceded the End.

Senator Lingered Long After Hope Had Fled.

The President Made a Call During the Day.

IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 .-Marcus A. Hanna, United States Senator from Ohio, died in his apartments at the Arlington Hotel at 6:40 o'clock tonight of typhoid fever, after an illness of two weeks. He passed away peacefully and without pain, after being unconscious since 3 clock a.m., at which time the first of a series of sinking spells came on, from the last of which he never rallied.

All the members of the family, with one or two exceptions, were at the bedside when the end came. They were Mr. and Mrs. Dan R. Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Parsons, Miss Phelps, H. M. Hanna and Mr. Dover. Mrs. Hanna was not at the bedside. She had been ill with a severe headache, and a short time before had been given a narcotic, and she then went to bed. Dr. Osler and Dr. Carter and two nurses were at the bedside when the end came.

During the last hours, life was kept in his body only by the use of the most powerful stimulants, and death followed a sinking spell that lasted ten minutes and which began at

The house-hold had become resigned to the inevitable outcome, and sadly waited the final summons. Elmer Dover, the Sen-ator's secretary, when he left the sickroom at 5:30 o'clock, said there was then a perceptible decrease of strength over the hour before, and that life was fading very fast. The patient's pulse was so faint that it could not be de-tected at all at the wrist, and the heart barely fluttered. Members of the family, when told of the remark, at once recognized it as one of his favorite rejoinders in the good-natured plaguing in which Mr. and Mrs. Hanna often indulged. It was the Senator's custom when he missed any personal article, especially his handkerchief, to say: "I expect my wife has it."

At about 11 o'clock yesterday, the Senator became unconscious, and did not seem to know what was going on about him. When it was seen that there was no chance for recovery, arrangement was made to have a death mask taken by Sculptor U. S. J. Dun-bar, and this was done early this evening. The cast will be perfect, and strange as it may seem, will show the face in its usual fullness. December he informed his friends that he did not feel quite well, but declined to take a period of rest which all fully realized was much needed. His deep interutive Committee of the Civic Federation, which was held in New York Friday and Saturday. His deep interest in the work of the Federation induced him thus to expose himself. He was able to attend the sessions of the committee and to participate in its deliberation, but Saturday night he was stricken by what was pronounced by Dr. George Brewer, his attending physician, to be the grip. He was confined to his apartments in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel for nearly four days, but on the afternoon of Wednesday, December 23, he was able to leave for his home in Cleveland. He became better on his arrival there, and Saturday, December 26, appeared at his office in his usual spirits, apparently quite recovered from his attack of the grip.

Sunday, January 10, Hanna left for Columbus to be present at the proceedings incident to his redicction to the United States Senate. He remained in Columbus until the following Wednesday afternoon, when he returned to Cleveland. During his soilourn in Columbus he has bright and cheerful, enduring the physical strain of greeting hundreds of his friends without an indication of wakness. He arrived in Washington from Cleveland Saturday, January 16. He was fatigued on account of his trip and the excitement and strain of the incidents of the week, but was in excellent spirits and received with characteristic cheerfulness and manifest pleasure the congratulations of his friends on his resilection to the Senate. "The early inability to retain nourishment was finally overcome, and the case seemed to be progressing more favorably when, on Friday last, in the afternoon, the Senator had a severe chill, a most unusual occurrence in the course of typhoid. Following this, his temperature rose rapidly, reaching 105 that night, and the evidences of profound toxemia were marked. ALWAYS A HERO WORSHIPER.

ALWAYS A HERO WORSHIPER (BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) CHICAGO, Feb. 14.—[Exclusive Dir patch.] Hanna's interest in politics may be said to date from 1880, when he carried a torch in a Garfield procession at Cleveland. He was then 43 years old, but he was not ashamed to show his enthusiasm with younger men.

He was always a hero worshiper, and he believed that Garfield represented the best element of the country, so he set at work to help elect him. He met the candidates during the cam-paign in Cieveland, and organised a Business Men's League, which had much to do with the overwhelming Re-publican success that year in the Ohlo city. From that time on he was drawn more and more into the politics of his city and State, and he was one of the first to propose the organization of the entire business interests of the country in favor of the Republican party.

In favor of the Republican party.

The untimely taking-off of Garfield transferred the local seat of power from Ohlo to New York, and Hanna turned for a new hero to John Sherman. He espoused the latter's cause in 1884, when the State split between its Senator and Blaine, and Hanna went to Chicago with J. B. Foraker in the Sherman interests. while Hanna's future one of the truest friends that ever lived."

Mr. Hay said that one of the most surprising things about Senator Hanna's career was the contrast between the man's true character and the cloud of calumny and vituperation that was made to surround his name by political opponents. Things that were attributed to him by thoughtless adversaries were precisely the things of which he was absolutely incapable. "Senator Hanna was the soul of honor, candor and open dealing," added Mr. Hay. "So far from being, as some liked to consider him, a creator of trusts and organised wealth, he was one of the most powerful and devoted champions of the laboring people this country has ever known. He believed hand his party; he was devoted to his friends, and we will find, now that he has gone, some of the truest mourners in the ranks of the opposition, as among them, in his life, he counted some of his most devoted friends. "Senator Hanna was a faithful and loyal friend of President McKinley."

Secretary Wilson had this to say of Senator Hanna: "A remarkable development, possible only with our conditions; a business man whose knowledge of men and things came from contact with affairs. Secretary Wilson had this to say of Senator Hanna: "A remarkable development, possible only with our conditions; a business and proved the country of the financial trouble was a delegate, but the campaign grow-indicated the particular of the delegation, when th an event to which he contributed with all his heart.

The 1892 convention did not see Hanna as a delegate, but the campaign found him hard at work, although he believed that Cleveland would win. All this time, Hanna and McKinley were being drawn closer together. After the election, when the Democrats attacked the tariff and the panic came, Hanna, who had been studying the subject of protection, instinctively turned to McKinley. The political campaign growing out of the financial trouble was hinged upon the tariff and all eyes turned to McKinley, whose bill had caused such discussion. Hanna went to Washington early in 1894 to work for his new hero. He found some of the old-leaders of the party apathetic towards McKinley, but Hanna liked opposition, and he never rested till he convinced them that the Ohio man was the logical candidate. Events proved that he was right, and the party leaders soon asw that there was no betenfal expression in the sense of the country-stogress and prosperity of his country-stogress and prosperity of his country-men."

Postmaster-General Payne said: "My acquaintance with Senator Hanna is almost lifelong. I have known him intimately thirty-five years. It is stated that the European residents of Port Arthur have been reassured, but that the Chinese are maksured, but that the Chinese are making frantic efforts to get away. Reports of Russian victories are, it is said, being circulated to buoy up the hopes of the residents. It is apparent that the Russians have, for the present, decided not to use their fleet, but to depend on the land forces. Eleven ships will, it is stated, have to be repaired before she can take the aggressive on sea. There is frequent firing, which is pre- aggressive on sea.

There is frequent firing, which is presumably drawn by Japanese torpedo poats. Firing was heard at midnight February 11, at intervals, also on the night of the 12th and 13th. February 14, the firing continued until 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

CENATOR HANNA DEAD.

Those who have read the recent his life could be saved by little short

Perhaps the most notable characteristic of Mr. Hanna was his tremendous activity. He was a man of seemingly inexhaustible resources and of never-tiring industry. To whatever he did he gave his best effort. He had great power of concentration and an indomitable will that was not accustomed to acknowledge defeat. In the industrial world he achieved unusual and abundant success. This success was attained largely through the exercise of his untiring energy keen foresight and strong continuity

Not less remarkable than his suc cess in an industrial way was the success which he achieved in politics when he turned his attention in that direction. Usually a man spends a goodly part of his lifetime in political activity before he attains to a position of influence in the United States tering politics, took a leading position in his party, and held it thenceforsition of a leader almost from the beginning of his public service in that body. His death will remove from the Senate a striking figure, and a member whom all concede to have been one of the leaders of Senatorial no heed. thought and opinion.

and positive opinions. Senator Hanna had enemies-and they were not all of them outside of his own political party. But he had strong friendships well as enmittes. The deep and abiding friendship which subsisted be tween Secator Hanna and the lamented President McKinley will be remembered as one of the pleasant episodes in public life.

The career of Mr. Hanna forms a and the opportunities of American cittrenship. Beginning life in comparative obscurity, he won his way to great successes chiefly by virtue of his own indefatigable energy and indomitable will. Although he had accumulated large wealth, he was a hard worker to the last, and may almost be said to have "died in the harness." lAfter an eventful life, filled with activities far beyond the ordinary, he has passed

TOO MANY BOND ISSUES.

I That is the opinion expressed by representative financiers of the city yesterday in commenting on the vote of the Council to add to the other propositions to be submitted to voters new issue of $250,000 for a library building in Central Park and one of striking example of the possibilities $50,000 for an addition to the City Jail. With the other issues to be submitted at the same time-$337,500 for the West Side water plant, $150,000 for a reservoir, and $50,000 for a detention hospital-these proposed bonds would make a total of $837,500 to be voted on. It is the judgment of some of the clearest business heads in the city that the plan to bunch all these issues savors of recklessness. In other columns of today's Times these gentlemen clearly express their views upon the situation. The city already has upon the market a sewer bond issue of $1,000,000, and good financiers urge that the city should wait till these securities are absorbed before throwing at buyers several hundred thousand dollars more of bonds-at the risk of glutting the market and injuring the city's credit. Indeed, these gentlemen doubt if the city could sell the proposed additional issues, even if they should be voted by monthly journal issued by the Nation the people, in the present condition al Irrigation Association. The criticisms of financial men do not. apply to the bond issue for the purchase of the West Side water plant, as the Hooker syndicate has agreed to take that; but the library issue is the last straw that is likely to strain the spinal column of the camel. The City Fathers must remember that it is one thing to float bonds and another thing to sell them-and also that there is a day of reckoning when all these bonds must be paid. Bond buyers do not forget that, neither do they fail to collect little things called coupons, which taxpayers must meet with regularity.

The trend of the best-informed pubic sentiment seems to be toward making haste slowly in the erection of a library, under the circumstances. A few years hence a bond issue for such a purpose might be easily floated (if offered by itself.) and the amount million-to buy a suitable lot and put up a noble structure, adequate to the city's certain expansion and splendid future. As for the Sixth-street Park site, there is the strongest sort of opposition to it among the city's sagacious men of affairs. As to storm drains, we may not

The world is less concerned regard ing the matter of restricting hostilities in the Far East-whether Mr. Hay is the author of the proposal, or whether it is of German origin—than it is that there shall be no general mix-up in the present disturbance. tickie the ear. It is all nonsense, of course, of the most nonsensical kind. The various pictures presented are kaleidoscopic in their changing hues and groupings. There is an abundance almost a superfluity—of light and color. There is also a bewildering array of "the eternal feminine," attractive of face and figure, graceful of movement, and gaudity costumed.

The music is—well, it is light and color and the choruses preponderate by sheer force of numbers and good training. The performance is, as a whole, very pleasing—although one must not go expecting to hear grand opera. The two acts of the piece are sumptuous in their scenic environment, which harmonises very agreeably with the rich costuming. John E. Henshaw is a pleasing comedian, with a debonair manner and humor which appears to be natural and spontaneous, though as likely as not it is the product of careful study and deliberation, He invests the character of BURBANK. If one is pleased with ordinary farce comedy and can feel delighted over a class of fun that is not conspicious for its quality, he would probably be thoroughly entertained by the Neil company offering at the Burbank this week. "Nancy & Co." is hamorous in a way, but it resulters as easy and extenporaneous the Burbank this week. "Nancy & Co." is humorous in a way, but it requires an easy and extenporaneous augher, who can yield himself to mirth apon the slightest provocation, to obtain a full mete of enjoyment out of it. There is an element of effervescence, and spontaneity about some of the situations, evolved, that render them musing, and give the players a chance.

Taere is an element of the structions, evolved, that render them amusing, and give the players a chance to do a little of the good work they are capable of doins.

Edythe Chapman, who takes the part of Nancy Brasher, a good-looking and mercurial young wife, indulges in the innocent pleasure of play writing without the knowledge or consent of her jealous husband, is entertaining and commendable.

John W. Burton is good in Ebenezer Griffing, as he always is in any role he essays. Sheldon Lewis as the unfortunate playaright, whom the literary ardency of Mrs. Brasher involves in sundry embarrassing and painful situations, is also effective.

The other parts are interpreted as well as their limited scope will allow.

has put it. Miss Mason is Zaza, and with the Carter Titan hair, and a good imitation of the Carter nervousness, puts life into her comic characterization. The funniest thing about "Zaza" is the horse-play clothes of Charles Rice. Rice is the tall German, and in the concluding farcelet he is shoved into the absurd frocks and lingerie of little "Toto," — mey's a lleged "cheelid," He is also sufficiently cunning and shy.

In "Hurly Burly," which is continued as the main part of the show this week, there have been two introductions, the one good and the other tedious. The winner is Barney Bernard in a vocal turn. Last night he sang four clever parodies in Yiddish dialect, and then he stopped because he had run out of verses—not because the sudlened had slacked up its encouraging appeared. For the other thing, Ilice and Cady, and Joseph Dailey tell a funny story three times, and swat each other in various portions of their anatomies.

Children seem to be getting the lau-rels of vaudeville this season, espe-cially clever little boys. The Lee youngsters, who do an impersonation youngsters, who do an impersonation at the Broadway, are winning plaudits early in life. Montgomery, the baritone, orings a sister to share his vocal honors with him this week. Her rendition of "Up in a Cocoanu Tree" is worth hearing. Stanfield, who is the best actor of the Broadway group, gives a characterization of an old circuit-riding preacher that is humorous indeed. He saves it from sacrilege by using no words in his "sermon"—only the twenty-six letters of the alphabet. Other favorites are Maude dealma, Halyard and Grant, Montgomery's llustrated songs, and moving pictures.

ORPHEUM. One naturally expects hearty laugh when the Rays are at ORPHEUM. One naturally expects a hearty laugh when the Rays are at this house, and this week's farce, "Casey, the Fireman," certainly has enough merry nonsense to satisfy the most exacting patron. With their usual "go," these two clever people supply a half hour's fun which is really amusing, although at times rather loud. The two Silvas present one of the most sensational balancing acts shown in this city for a long time, and hold the audience for many almost-breathless moments. Station of the Atlant rons of our navy. Upon the tion of this purchase there ecaling stations for the nave of any nation which may design war with us. The plain per country will have possession of Cuba and all of the British islands along our eastern coast.

"The growth of the nation, phenomenal as it has been, must be looked upon by students of history as a natural growth, as natural as the growth of a tree. It was natural that the Louislana purchase should have been made, for we must have possessed both sides of the Mississippi River. It could never have been a peaceful boundary between divers peoples. The war with Mexico naturally expanded us from the gulf to the coast of California. It was natural that we should have Florida, and all of the gulf coast territory. Finally, it was natural that we should have Porto Rico; and that we shall have Cuba and all of the other coast islcoast of California. It was natural that we should have Florida, and all of the gulf coast territory. Finally, it was natural that we should have Porto Rico; and that we shall have Cuba and all of the other coast islands east of us. As to the taking of the Philippines I regard that as a step into the great realm of history, a step taken without knowledge of what the future shall be, but I have come to regard it as a step directed by the Invisible Maker of History."

When a treaty for the purchase of the Danishe West Indies was before the Senate Senator Cullom of Illinois, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, said: "Everyone seems to be able to see the necessity of that purchase. I believe with Senator Morgan that we shall uitimately possess Cuba and all of the atlantic coast islands. There are some farseeing statesmen who bechairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, said: "Everyone

The abtiny to possess Canada and all of the believed, however, that we shall possess Mexico, because our people are not of a temperament which would lead them to seek aggressively for power further southward. The absorption of Hawaii was as natural as our expansion eastward. It is one of the natural outposts of our country, it to the westward. The purchase of Alaska was as timely as it was necessary. It not only benefited our own country but it benefited Russia and Great Britain, by removing one of the numerous lines of friction between those countries. Moreover, that Alaskan purchase seems to have been the forerunner of our expansion into and beyond the Pacific Ocean."

"I are purchase of the Danish West Indies will meet the approval of all of our people," said Senate Daniel of Virginia. "It has always seemed to me a misfortune that the Senate did not ratify the treaty of purchase thirty years ago, it is an expansion procedure in which there can be no politics. Everybody seems to understand that it is a national and international contents and the software and taking a price of the software and taking a price of the software in th years ago. It is an expansion procedure in which there can be no politics. Everybody seems to understand that it is a national and international step in the right direction. The possession of all of the Atlantic coast islands should precede the building of the istmian canal. We will not need to purchase Cuba. She is almost ready now to fall into our arms of her own volition. That is very palpable."

The constitution delegates the treaty-making power to the Senate, but not only must the Senate ratify a treaty for the purchase of the Danish Islands, but the House of Representives must be heard, because no appropriation can be made without originating in the popular branch of the Congress. There will be no trouble about getting an appropriation for our commercial and naval interests. I have talked with the house leaders, and they have also talked with others, so that we already know that the sentiment of the House is almost unanimous for this purchase.

existing conditions. Just how much truth there is in this is not known, for while some horsemen believe the story others are inclined to doubt it, because they say that Mr. Gunst's health is such that he has been ordered by his physician to give up all active business. It is stated that for this reason he sold out his interests in the New California Jockey Club, of which Tom Williams is the president. In any event, these rumors of Gunst's race-track mission to this city continue to fly about.

From authority that cannot be questioned it is declared to be a fact that emissaries have been here from time to time on just such a scheme. It is also given out that four or five different locations have been picked out in the vicinity of San Francisco that would be suitable for a big racing plant, the principal part of the backing to be furnished by San Francisco capital. When asked yesterday what he knew about the scheme, Mr. Corrigan merely laughed, said he knew nothing about it, and hurried away to avoid further questioning. He is the most likely man here at present to go into an opposition track near San Francisco, for he and Tom Williams hate each other worse than snakes, although they once were good friends. Still, Corrigan is heavily interested now in a Kansas City track, and might not care to take on any more burdens, but if a new track is started near San Francisco it can be safely stated that he would race some of his go, d horses there to spite Williams, if for nothing else.

Brings in Thousands of Big Ducks, Affording Rare Sight, But Few of Them Are Brought to Bag.

Bull: If it doesn't go, six markey will win. Buris: It's a pretty even thing. to see it go six rounds. Though yesterday marked the closing of the legal duck and quall season, it virtually ended Sunday night with the return of the gunners from their last day on hills or marsh. Comparatively few were able to get in a parting whack at the birds yesterday, and most of these failed to make their final effort profitable. The quali hunters had rather the best of it, such as the sport was; the morning was one of the poorest of the year for ducks. High fogs throughout the Ballona section prevented the birds becoming thirsty and most of them stayed at sea until well in the afternoon, the straggling bunches which broke away from the main raft outside being rather unwilling to come down, and ready to jump skyward every time a gun was fired over the marsh.

In the afternoon when most shooters were ready to quit, the powers that govern wind and weather sprung a real treat by uncorking a double-reef gale of wind. At noon acres of sprigs were sitting on the mirror-like zurface of the ocean outside Del Rey, but about 2 o'clock the breeze came up and it rapidly freshened until at 2.30 the ocean had become too rough for the ducks. When they came in they all came at once.

A sprig, while perhaps not the fastest of ducks, is a big, powerful birdend can do his ninety miles in the hour without the help of wind. When he is backed by a forty-mile breeze, and is thirsty beside, with water only three miles inland, one is liable to be laughed at for expressing an opinion on sprig speed limits. The wind was so strong the birds could hardly move against it, but when they turned the other way, flocks were out of sight in a minute.

When the first big bunch came in shooting operations were stopped tem-DONTEST EXPECTED.

American Cars Abroad. According to James H. Norman, United States Consul-General at Mu-

This is the first railway car of that kind ever introduced into Germany and may be the forerunner of luxurious palace cars in Germany such as we enjoy in this country.

All this comes of the chief of the bureau of railway management making himself familiar with railway enterprise in the United States as the present chief has done.

The new Minister of Railways took offee on January 1, and being t man of enterprise and energy, we may look for a larger introduction of American locomotives and palace cars in the fu-ves and palace cars in the fu-locomotives and palace cars in the future.

What is surprising even ourselves in this country is the rapid introduction of palace sleeping cars on the trolley as well as on the steam roads. It will soon be possible to make trips between cities hundreds of miles apart on sleepers that can be shifted from the steam to the trolley roads with little or no disturbance to the occupants. Such cars are now being fitter up in the Middle West and promise to be a great success.

American enterprise is rapidly forcing itself throughout Europe. All it wants is officials abroad who are not too closely bound to the notions of their remote ancesters.—[Boston Globs.]

THIRD CLAUSE STICKS.

IBY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-AM!
PARIS, Feb. 15.—A question has risen concerning the powers' acceptance of the third clause of Japan's declaration relative to her recognition of China's neutrality, but adds that China shall maintain garrisons at Shan Hai Kwan and other strategical points. It is said that the European powers will not approve of this condition, as it will have the effect of requiring China to do garrison duty halpful to Japan.

The success of the American initiative to secure the neutralization of Laina and the limitation of the area of hostindes continue to absorb official and diplomatic attention, the results effected being considered paramount to the actual war operations.

The only advices received here re-mults effected being considered para-mount to the actual war operations.

The only advices received here re-garding operations in the field show the gradual concentration of Russian and Japanese troops near the Yalu River.

FIRST UNOFFICIAL STORY. Port Arthur, Tuesday last, has been ived in a telegram dated Port Arthur, February 9. The dispatch adds that the temper of the army and navy is excellent. No attempts have been made by the Japanese to land on the Kwang Tung Peninsula. The repairs to the ships damaged by the torpedo attack are proceedingly rapidly.

The movements of the troops are covered with much sent crey. They are being moved at night toward their bases at Sasebo, Kure Moji and Yokusukl, and the lights of ordinary trains are extinguished when in the neighborhood of troop trains. Members of the reserve force immediately step into the places of the outgoing regulars. Their organization is perfect, and a full equipment is ready for each one of the reserves. Alexieff has ordered all foreigners and civilians to leave that place. The families of the Russian officers in Manchuria are being sent to Russia, and this is causing great pressure upon the railway. Dalny was the first place to be deserted. These non-combatants and civilians have abandoned all their property at Port Arthur and Dalny. The Russians freely admit their unpreparedness for the Japanese attack to have been a terrible blunder. Only half of the ships were in line of battle, and their officers were ashore celebrating the anniversary of Viveroy Alexieff's birthday. A stirring episode was the reniversary of Viveroy Alexies's birth-day. A stirring episode was the re-entrance into the harbor of the war-ships Czarevitch and Novik after the fight. They came in under their own steam, with bands playing and men cheering. Throughout the afternoon and night of February 9, wounded men were being removed to the shore. NEUTRAL SHIPS RELEASED. YING KOW, Sunday, Feb. 14.—The dministrative authorities at Port Arthur have formally notified the American and British Consuls there of the release of neutral ships which have been seized. Both consuls have asked for explanations. The civil admini-tration of Port Arthur has intimated that Viceroy Alexieff will not recogto Port Arthur and Manchuria. attacks on Port Arthur are not for the purpose of seizing that place at present unless an unexpected weakness in the fortifications there should develop. They are part of a well-defined plan for the harassing of the Russian fact until Korea can be occupied. The bottling-up of the fiest there enables the landing of troops in Korea without the convoy of a large number of warships. The reports of disorder in the various parts of Korea-hastened the operations of the Japanese, in order that, they might obtain possession before anarchy became prevalent and foreign interests menaced in consequence.

The taking of Port Arthur will form the second number of the warprogramme. First, however, it is learned that the Japanese propose to cut the line of communication well up on the railroad running from Newchwang to Port Arthur. It is supposed a large Japanese force will land at Newchwang shortly for this purpose.

The Navy Department denies positively that any American naval officers were aboard the Japanese spice of the response of the field, but a favorable response has not yet been received, and it is feared that it will not be.

tourists. The idea occurred to the friendly policeman that these would be good places to exhibit; he did not know that they were fan-tan joints.

As the parade turned down the street the first fat Chinaman swung off his stool like a flash and locked the open door into the vestibule.

The policeman stepped up smiling back at his tourists, and started to open the door. It resisted. He swung his weight on it; he bawled a hoarse summons to open; he beat it with his flast. The Chinaman outside smoked peacefully away at his pipe.

At last the cop gave up in chagrin, and the procession went on.

Chinamen- came and went through the doors, but as the policeman and the procession came by each fat smoking Chinaman, a door behind him would be heard to go to with a heavy bang as though it were a door of great weight. Far inside, another door could be heard banging with a muffled sound, and fainter still, another, and after, a very faist bang of a fourth door.

To white man has ever been in these places or ever will get in.

The new tan Joints are about all there is interesting to Chinese New Years this season, and the nearest one can come to them is the sound of the clinking of either domines or money when the doors are open.

For the rest New Year's is a frost. The Chinese do not take the interest in the season they used to, and do not celebrate openly on account of the bad manners of the white visitors.

In years past the Chinese used to keep open house, and he who dropped in at the little shacks and the hovels was invited to partake to his tasic of all sorts of Chinese good will.

As a sample of how the white people reciprocated, last night a crowd of bolsterous white people, mostly well-dressed women, took possession of the stairway leading into the Chinamen had to appeal to the police.

Telegraph Operatore May Strike.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Several hundred telegraph operators employed by the Eric Railroad Company have held an all-night meeting at Paterson, N. J., to discuss alleged grievances. Representatives from every section were present and the Western delegation is reported to have favored a strike immediately, but the delegates finally decided to make further representations to the management and taport in two weeks.

The Lace Selling Continues Graniteware Selling Continues

A revelation to everybody. No such good and stylish laces were ever shown in Los Angeles at such a low price. To use the Scotch phrase, "It is melting just like snow of a dyke;" however, the quantity is very large and more than we could possibly sell in one day, so the lace

Trees All Dead.

The local officials of the United States Forestry Department have made investigations, which show that nearly all the young trees planted on the mountain slopes have perished. They were dying before the rains came, and the water was too late to save the tender applings.

For Deserted Woman. A sympathizer has sent $10 to The Times for Mrs. Price, the deserted wife of the wretched labor union agitator who is living in luxury in Chicago, while his family is struggling along in a tent here. This and other contributions will be forwarded by The Times to the poor woman.

Blind Tom Arrested Again. "Blind Tom" was landed in the City Jail last night hilariously drunk. Tom Brady is the man's name, and his is a familiar figure on the streets of the city. The police say that Brady is one of the worst of all the fakers in town. His trouble yesterday was caused by his insulting language while soliciting alms on Main street.

The Mills Mastler.

The Mills Meetings.

Rev. B. Fay Mills will speak in Blanchard Hall at noon today at 3:30 this afternoon, and this evening in Simpson Auditorium. The noon topic will be the Sermon on the Mount; the afternoon topic "The Divinity of Man;" the evening topic, "Practical Brotherhood in New Zealand." Each day this week except Saturday he will speak at the same hours in the same houses.

Complimentary Dinner.

A jolly party of the fellow-employes of Division Superintendent W. H. Smith of the Pacific Electric Rallway, Pasadena division, met at Tavern Del Monte last night and tendered to Mr. Smith a complimentary dinner, on the eve of his retirement from the service of the company. The gentleman is very popular with his fellow rallway men, as their enthusiastic send-off last night indicated.

Residence Looted.

Residence Looted. Residence Looted.

The residence of Ira B. Caler, No. 523 Macy street, was entered by burglars last night while the members of the family were visiting Chinatown to witheas the festivities incident to the celebration of Chinese New Year. The thieves made a thorough search of the premises, securing two gold watches and 310, the value of their booty being nearly $100. Entrance was effected by prying open a rear window.

Missionary Meeting.

The ladies of Vincent Methodist Church will have an all-day meeting tomorrow to discuss ways and means for raising the $1000 they subscribed toward the building of their new church. In the afternoon the home and foreign missionary societies will also hold their meetings. This meeting was originally called for today, but owing to a funeral service in the church it was postponed till tomorrow.

Nunez and Lerma Released.

Trinidad Nunez, who was arrested Thursday night suspected of being implicated in the murder of Francisco Villa, was released from custody yesterday by the detectives. Joaquin Lerma, who was arrested Sunday night by Deputy Constable Nieto, was also released, as nothing could be proven against the two men. Nunez and Lerma were the two musicians at the house on Utah street near which Villa was found murdered. The detectives are now at sea concerning the identity of the murderer.

Volpin in Trouble.

A. Volpin of Yuma, Ariz., Is in danger of getting into deep trouble with the Federal authorities. Volpin went into bankruptcy last November, with debts of over $5000, and assets aggregating, according to his account, only $2000. He has a number of creditors in this city, and when they discovered that Volpin's father-in-law and brother-in-law had put in good-sized claims against the estate, these creditors registered a strenuous objection. Investigation shows some mysterious work in connection with the making of notes held by his relatives, and it is probable that further action will be taken, as these claims were disallowed by the referee on Saturday. Volpin is alleged to have purchased a magnificent diamond pin shortly after declaring himself completely "broke."

MURDER AT FANDANGO.

Thrust to the Heart While Dance Was Agoing.

Result of "Muy Mucho Vino" at Baldwin's Ranch.

Piteous Scene in the House of the Tragedy.

The horrified stillness that comes after a murder lay on the pic-turesque little cluster of peon huts at

There had been a dance the nigh before on the hard, beaten earth in front of one of the crazy tumble-down hovels. Lanterns had been hung on the trees, making a circle of wan shivering, uncertain light beyond which the dark stood like a wall. Fired with raw sweet wine. Norbeto

Silva and Aureliano Medina had slipped out of the dance, and the dark swallowed them.

The outlandish accordion whined on and the dancers weaved in and out of the gay fandango, not knowing that less than a biscuit's throw away in the thick dark Medina was fighting for his life; did not know it when Silva's knife went to his heart and Silva fled, leaving Medina gushing out his life

Being a Mexican, Medina did not cry out; but with the fandango music sounding in his ears, he crawled away forlorn apathetic groups—silent and wistful. In front of the hut where the dead man lay, were two Mexicans lying on their faces—lead drunk, sleeping off the fandango.

In a thoroughly American village, the officious man would have rushed forward and taken you in hand. Yesterday the peons stood at a distance and watched the newspaper men—sad-eyed, pathetic, gentle figures, women in black rebosas and men in the poor dress of the working peon.

What was the use of their hunting down Silva? Would that bring Medina back to his young wife and the baby one month old?

baby one month old?

They pointed silently into a most pitiful chamber of death.

Why is it that a dead man's poor old worn snoes sticking from beneath a winding sheet always seem to supply the human and pitiful element of a murder? The other features of the murder scene—with the drying-splashes of blood, the gaping lips of the wound, and tears of the women even seem always impersonal and merely horrible. The shoes of the dead man seem like an appeal to the hu-man pity of the horror-stricken.

The poor little offices they had done

—these poverty-stricken ones—in or-der that the Biessed Virgin should look down with compassion on the soul of Medina, gave one hurt feelings about the heart.

Just inside the hut door lay a white sheet that followed the outlines of a human body. On the breast lay a crucifix and rosary—a poor, cheap af-fair. At the head and on each side, CITY'S BRIGHT YOUNGSTERS.

Remarkable Exhibit of Handiwork of Smallest Pupils in the Public Schools, for St. Louis.

One can only be filled with wonder when inspecting the remarkable agregation of handiwork of the very samall school children, now being assembled in Room 4, at the Springstreet school building, preparatory to its being packed for the St. Louis Exposition.

The precoclous youngsters of the first and second grades have manufactured a great variety of articles from rafia and reed, which are so perfect as to in many instances resemble the work of experts at basketry. There are baskets in many shapes, mats, picture-traines, broom-holders, satchels, handkerchief bags, and a variety of other forms.

It must be remembered that these are amail children. Without discriminating against any of the heautiful work it may be said that perhaps the best busies. In the opinion of the Los Angeles men of finance, the action of the City Council yesterday, carried to an ultimate conclusion, probably would make Los Angeles bonds a drug upon the market and would render the sale of all of the proposed new issues, except that for the purchase of the West Side Water Company's holdings, practically an impossibility for a long time to come. Here is what some of the financiers of the city say about the matter:

there will be serious differences of opinion as to the advisability, both of issuing more bonds at this time for that purpose and of placing such a building in Central Park. I think it would be well for Los Angeles to complete first the bond issues which already have been made before entering into such enterprises. I do not believe this a proper time for the city to issue more bonds which bear 3% per cent. Interest, and I doubt if it would be easy to find a market for such an issue as la proposed. In order to attract bond buyers, the rate of interest must be higher than that mentioned. Such an issue would not be attractive, because in the East there are abundant opportunities to secure higher rates of interest, and bond suyers, while assured of the stability of the bonds, would think twice or many times before undertaking to place an issue bearing that rate of interest. Again there is a question as to whether the city should make the rate higher, just having disposed of an issue carrying that there will be serious differences of make the rate higher, just having disposed of an issue carrying that rate. As to the proposition to locate the library building in that park, I the library building in that park, I think it will certainly meet with strong opposition. The right of the city to place it there has been seriously questioned and the point has been raised that such a step might becloud the city's title to that park. The amount of the proposed bond issue is not sufficient to purchase another site and erect a suitable building with the balance remaining after other site and erect a suitable build-ing with the balance remaining after another site has been acquired. It is not a question of the present but of the future and therefore the question arises as to whether Central Park is the proper place in which to erect such a building. I doubt it, and I be-lieve there will be strong opposition to the plan. MR. SARTORI'S IDEAS. . J. F. Sartori: I think it would be a mistake for this city to attempt to place upon the market additional bonds bearing only 3% per cent. in-terest, and I seriously doubt if the

After some debate the request of the attorney was granted, and an amended ordinance, bearing the emergency clause, was at once passed.

Chief Elton was forced to send out the notices because of the activity, of a firm of sign painters who have contracted to put large wooden signs along the tops of the fire walls of buildings. He brought suit against Assemblyman Henry E. Hotch-kiss, either directly or indirectly, by will or otherwise." After he found himself on Easy street he resented.

When the case was tried it was shown that Mrs. Hotchkiss is worth $700,000, and that Jeff White would inherit ene-half were she to die intestate. In such event the contract held by Carter would be of some value, and Jeff White set up the claim of fraud. Judge York, however, holds that no fraud was shown, and hits the plaintiff a hard rap for attmpting to avoid paying his attorney. "The consideration for the contract was the services by Carter, and the present market value of it," says the court, "in view of the right of Mrs. Hotchkiss to dispose of her property by will, would hardly compensate for the plaintiff.

ORDINANCE IS AMENDED.

Last Saturday many merchants were surprised to receive notices that they must remove the signs on top of their places of business immediately. These notices came from the Chief of Police and referred to ordinance No. 6108. This ordinance was passed several years ago to prevent the erection of large wooden signs on top of the fire walls, the question having come before the Council as the result of a disastrous fire, at which the firemen were greatly impeded by these signs.

Yesterday a long petition, signed by the most prominent merchants, asking that the ordinance be amended or received.

HILL CONTESTANTS FRIENDLY.

There was quite a pathetic littile scene in the rooms of the Associated Charities yesterday. Secretary Stuart didn't break down and weep—but them he is hardened to appeals of the sort. Mrs. Gertrude Driggs made her appearance leading by the hand her erstwhile enemy and contestant for Charles Hill's 142,000. Mrs. Laura Hill. This indy became popularly known as Mrs. "Alaska" Hill, to distinguish her from the numerous other widows who were scattered around.

Mrs. Laura Hill is reduced to a state of impecuniosity. In other words, she is dead broke, and wants a stake to get back to Alaska. She has friends at Skagway, and if she can only get there she says that she will be all right. And Mrs. Gertrude Driggs pleaded for tenderness and consideration for Mrs. Hill. She heaped coals of fire upon her head by saying all kinds of nice things to Secretary Stuart about her, and urged that he interest hunself so that she can get free transportation back to Skagway.

Mr. Stuart was very non-committal and handed Mrs. Laura over to one of his assistants, so that she could spiel her little piece and have it reduced to writing. Then if investigation shows that Mrs. Laura is deserving, or that she is liable to become a burden to the county, it may be found cheeper to pay her way to Skagway and have done with it. HILL CONTESTANTS FRIENDLY.

CANVASSED ELECTION. The Board of Supervisors yesterday can vassed the result of the election a Ocean Park, and it was declared duly-incorporated city.

CASE DISMISSED. J. L. Morris was before Justice Pierce yesterday charged with having obtained money under false pretenses from one Velasco. He had sold a half-interest in a painting business to Velasco for $200, on the understanding that there were no outstanding debts. There were debts, but it was doubtful whether they could stand as a lien against the business, and the case was dismissed.

SUPERVISORS AND SHERIFFS,

Inasmuch as both conventions will have much in common, it is considered eminently fitting that both be held at the same time, and place.

At least one joint session of both conventions will be held, when the "Hobo Problem" is to be considered, and if some mode of united action should then be determined upon the result would be a magnificent gain for the State.

It developed during the examination that Trombley has a military record that any young man might feel proud of. He said he had always led an honest, sober and industrious life, and had never committed any offense against the law that he was aware of.

The case was submitted without argument, except a short address that the defendant made in his own behalf, reiterating his innocence.

When Justice Chambers ordered his discharge applause broke out in the courtroom, and Trembley's wife, who is considerably larger than her husband, gathered him in her arms and amothered him with kisses. TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT. The statement on appeal in the case B. Ballerino and Joseph Wiot, unof B. Ballerino and Joseph Wiot, under sentence of thirty days' imprisonment and $500 fine, for renting property for immoral purposes, was filed in Justice Austin's court yesterday morning by Maj. Horace Bell. It is a document of 160 typewritten pages, and Maj. Bell wanted the court to pass on it at once, but Justice Austin refused to do so until he had time to wade through the mass of stuff. He postpoued his decision till 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

The octogenarian mysteriously disappeared and parties of hunters that searched far and wide failed to find him, but Sunday Gulich and Bennett came upon the remains while quali hunting, as reported exclusively in The Times yesterday. A reward of $100 had been effered, but these two gentlemen compromised for $75$. The inquest will be held this morning at 10 o'clock, and this afternoon at 2 o'clock the funeral services will be conducted.

Mr. Jones wandered twenty miles, likely along main thoroughfares, and after going that distance evidently became so weary that he paid no further attension to the road, starting across the wash. It is supposed he sat or lay under the bush where the remains were found and died from exhaustion and exposure. There were no evidences of foul play. to have the delivery of the lumber commenced today. The bid was $18.75 per thousand for the rough Oregon pine, which comprehends about $5 per cent. of the entire amount.

In response to a request presented to the board by T. J. Hampton on behalf of the Garvanza Improvement. Association, it was resolved to recommend to the City Council the abandonment of the old reservoir near Garvanza. It has long been out of use and is of no value to the city as a reservoir site, and the recommendation to abandon it was accompanied by another that it be sold to the improvement association at the rate of $500 per acre. It is desired by that corporation in order to prevent an angle in streets now being iaid out.

Supt. Mulholland reported adversely on the site offered one week ago for a reservoir by Culver & Strong. He stated that the land mentioned was in no way suitable to be connected with the city's water system.

W. P. Fuller & Co. gave notice that they proposed to commence action against the city for damage to doors and sash in the basement of their establishment on Los Angeles street, occasioned by the bursting of a water pipe in the street. The superintendent stated that the break in the pipe had been caused by the atting away of the iron through action of the electric current of the L& Angeles Railway. The matter was handed over to the City Attorney.

Before adjournment the Water Board reslected J. J. Fay, Jr., as president and James P. Vroman, secretary. Both have served since the organization of the present board with great satisfaction to all who have had business with the department.

Fireproof Curtains and Additional Exits.

Official Report Says Conditions Are Good.

According to the report of Superin-tendent of Buildings Julius W. Krause, submitted to the City Council yester-day, extensive alterations have been made in the Los Angeles theaters which greatly diminish the probability of loss of life in case of fire. Fireproof cur-tains have been installed, additional ex-its made and everything that might in opening on the street now swing out-ward, a new fireproof curtain has been installed and other minor changes have been made, which render the building more safe. At the Burhank, senting ca-pacity 1580, the side exit on the south side has been enlarged, the new steel fireproof curtain has been put in place and several other interior improvements have been made. In the Unique The-ster, negative cancely 858, the seats have been made. In the Unique The-ater, seating capacity 628, the seats have been securely fastened to the floor, additional aisies and the widesing of too narrow sisles have been ordered; the wire fence at the back of the audi-torium will be removed, and pro-grammes hereafter will contain a dia-gram of the building, with exits plainly marked thereon.

At the Mason Operahouse, scating capacity 1552, several small obstructions have been removed to permit free passage, strong handrails have been ordered placed on the side of all stairways and inclines, rubber matting will be put down on the incline on the south side of the lobby entrance, to the first landing, and other less important changes have been made. At the Orpheum, seating capacity 1425, another doorway has been ordered placed on the south side of the balcony to the main floor, passageways and aisles in the back of the gallery will be widened by the removal of several rows of seats, the theater has a good fireproof curtain, and the Superintendent of Buildings is now negotiating with the owner no matter what the purpose was for issuing them. If the bond market is no matter what the purpose was for issuing them. If the bond market is right, it might be possible to secure a premium on bonds bearing 4 per cent. interest, but there would not be much of a demand for the issues now proposed, and that being true there is certain to be a strong fight against the new propositions. This, of course, does not apply to the bonds proposed for the acquisition of the plant of the West Side Water Company, for those-bonds have been practically sold already, the Hooker syndicate having agreed to take them. It will be remembered that the city had great difficulty in disposing of its water works bonds, and but for the action of the banks here, the city would still have upon its hands the $1,000,000 issue of sewer bonds. This latter issue was taken by the banks more through motives of public spiritedness, or I might say local patriotism, than because the banks expected to realize because the banks expected to realize profits on the bonds. The deal has not been completed, but despite the latest action by the City Council, the Alsaka Not Farming Country.

"When people read that Alaska is capable of great agricultural development they should pass up the statement for rubbish and nonsense," said H. Bratnober, at the Arlington.

"Alaska is one of the richest parts of creation in the precious metals an. that is all it is fit for. The Lord never intended it for a farming country, but Gov. Brady has for years, in the indulgence of a hobby, been sending out reports of the wonderful farming possibilities of the Territory, timply because he manages to raise a few radishes and cabbages in his garden. The truth is that a very few of the bardiest vegetables can be produced in some special spot that gets an unusual degree of sunshine, but this is about the limit.

"I have been in Alaska for several years, and at the risk of incurring the Governor's ill will am here to say that people who go to Alaska in the bops of rassing crops are on the highest vegetables can be produced in some special spot that gets an unusual degree of sunshine, but this is about the limit.

But for the action of the close banks the million dollar sewer bond issue would still be on the city's hands and there is the storm-drain bond issue which has not been disposed of. Would it not be better to get rid of what we have before trying to dispose of new bonds?

If Los Angeles as a city is not made better, and many of its graver faults corrected, it will not be because the last dies of the Pbell Club have not realized their responsibilities, and discussed the ways and means to be adopted with the zeal and animation worthy of the cause. Yesterday afternoon they were given the opportunity to speak their minds freely upon the indisences making for crime. Of course, the saloon was mentioned as first in this iniquitous list, and the safeguard recommended was to prevent saloon keepers from selling to minors, and from standing sponsors for other forms of vice. Mrs. Sumner P. Hunt set forth for the comfort of all concerned that Los An-If Los Angeles as a city is not made not be discussed now. If the proposed bonds are voted, it need surprise no person who is at all familiar with the existing conditions, if the city would be obliged to hold them a long time without being able to find a market for them.

MR. DRAKE COINCIDES.

J. C. Drake: This is certainly not an opportune time for the city of Los Angeles to try to dispose of new bond issues which bear the rate of interest proposed. There are many things to be considered in this connection and many control of the streets as a measure to prevent the making of young criminals; neither should messenger boys be sent to saloons nor places of ill repute.

the starting tears, and one felt a perfect passion of protest against the popular appeal so arms.

The argument that war is ceasing from out the land is not borne out by statistics, and Mrs. Chapin (herself cradled in the Civil War) gave account of ten great wars which had come in her time. She closed with an appeal for fairness of judgment in the present instance, and the feeling utterance that as far as Russia was concerned though she possessed the porest form of Christianity in the world, it yet preached the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, and was better than the triumph of any variety of paganism that the earth could show.

The travel section of the Ebell met yesterday under the leadership of its curator, Mrs. Philip Gengembre Hubert, the latest news from their present Alaskan experience being from Juneau. Mrs. Donald Frick read a fine paper on Juneau. Mrs. Busbee related a thrilling experience, which befell her in the ley seas off Juneau, where her party was rescued from a sinking steamer. Mrs. Hubert also told many personal remnilizences of her own trip through those northern resions.

CURED BY CUTICURA

Which Acted Like a Charm After Doctors and Hospitals Failed.

Here is another of those remarkable cures of torturing, disfiguring skin hu-mors daily made by Cuticura Resolv-ent, assisted by Cuticura Ointment and Soap, after physicians, hospitals and all else had falled.

"I feel it my duty to try to help those suffering from skin diseases. My case was a very bad one, covering all of one side of my face and had reached my eye. I had two or three doctors prescribe without any relief. They said my disease was Epithelioma. I was then advised to go to one of our hospitals, which I did, taking their treatment for some time. I had given up all hope when my humband asked me to try the Cuticura Remedies. My face being in such a very bad state, I used the Cuticura Soap with luke-warm water and a small silk sponge and then applied the Cuticura Oniment. I took one teaspoonful of the Resolvent four times a day. They acted like a charm, and in one week's time my face was cured entirely and has remained so. I certainly can recommend the Cuticura Remedies as infallible.

INDIAN KIDNAPS SQUAW. Ramon the Giant, a stalwart brave from the Manuel Indian Reservation above Highland, made a sensational attempt to kidnap Victoria Pabolo, the squaw of another brave, who some years since cast aside the habits of his tribe for civilized ways. For years the Giant has been enamored of the squaw, and last night appeared at the home of his rival, east of town, and selsing the woman in his arms, was running off with her when discovered by several Mexicans, who went in pursuit. After a long, hard race they compelled him to give up his victim. He was arrested and this morning sent to jail for disturbing the peace.

We ought to be glad when our friends are promoted to higher spheres. In San Francisco the other day Della Whitehair was granted a divorce from her husband, Charles B., on a ground that should suffice to arouse the united manhood of the State. Mr. Whitehair refused to take a bath, and the judge, I gather, held that this was such cruelty to the late Mrs. Whitehair (she now is Miss Crane) as to justify his action in letting her go her maiden way.

This case should be taken to the Supreme Court of the State, and, it possible, to an even higher tribunal; for on its ultimate decision rests the future welfare of numberless homes. If the San Francisco judge's decision is based on sound law there can be no such thing as foreseeing where the divorce evil will end or when the breaking up of once happy homes will cease.

For in most American homes it is the same. The lady of the house rises on Sunday morning, and, just as she is

"You did not take a bath last night, Henry!"

The guilty wretch who is still lying in bed realizes that this is so (he has realized it all along, and has been congratulating himself that She has not observed) and at once prepares a defence that he himself feels is weak.

"N-no, Henrietta, It—it was not necessary; I took one last Thursday night."

"You are mistaken, Henry:"—oh, the stoniness of that glare!—"You took your last bath two weeks ago next Saturday!"

MILLION FOR A CIGAR.

Hon. George Otis of this city is said to have bought a mining property at Searchlight, the Cyrus Noble, for $500, which is now reputed to be worth considerable over $500,000. F. W. Black, part owner of the famous Quartette group, stated that a few years ago he bought the mine of J. C. Coleman for a cigar. Later he sold it to Tobe Weaver, who transferred the property to Mr. Otis for the price named. According to Black the property is worth $1,000,000, being next in point of richness to the Southern Nevada group. tin.

Preliminary arrangements were entered into today for effecting the lease of the baseball grounds for use as a high school recreation park. The owner of the property, Miss Wakeham of Berkeley, has signified her willin-ness to give the school authorities a three-year lease without condition, and it is likely the offer will be accepted.

Superintendent Hagerman of the Union Ice Company's local plant, spent half an hour under a big helmet as the result of the blowing out of an ammonia head at the company's plant yesterday afternoon. With the helmet to prevent him from suffocation. Hagetmann managed to shut off the ammonia pipes.

IMPORTANT TAX DECISION.

The case of Justice vs. F. M. Robinson, Tax Collector of Orange County, argued before Judge Ballard four years ago and appealed to the Supreme Court, has been decided in favor of the defendant affirming the decision of the lower court. The action was brought by Justice, a tax payer of the Boisa drainage district, to recover district taxes paid and alleged by him in the complaint to be invalid because the act under which the district was organized was, said to be unconstitutional and the organization irregular. The decision is an important one locally as it establishes the validity of the Boisa drainage district and the act under which it was organized, thus affecting other districts that have since been formed, or are in process of organization.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

Entertain at Dinner.

THE young ladies of the Phi Delta Sigma secority gave a dancing party last evening at the home of Miss Vesta Edwards, No. 1236 Arapahoe street.

Vesta Edwards, No. 1236 Arapahoe street.

A hearts' scheme of decoration was carried out. In the drawing-room, red hearts were strung from the chandellers to the corners of the room, and red ribbons, trimmed with smilax, were wound about. The dining-room was ins the sorority colors, which are red and gold, gold colored ribbons being strung about and red hearts dangled promiscuously. The refreshments were served from small tables ornamented with French baskets of red carnations, and the programmes were red, with dear little cupids dancing over them. More than fifty guests were entertained during the evening.

Birdlike Notes.

Some of our débutantes can do some other things, beside look pretty, for instance, Miss Katherine Ridgeway, who combines with a striking brunette beauty, a rich contraito voice. Her first public appearance was at Mrs. George P. Kaufman's tea on Sunday, when she delighted the guests with her clear, birdlike notes. She is only following in the steps of her celever sister, May Ridgeway, who always is a great favorite on account of her striking appearance, vivacity and wit. Miss May is a past mistress of the art of mimicry, and in amateur theatricals and little gatherings she wins appliase by her clever imitations of well-known accreases, etc.

COULTER WEDDING.

No. 1103 Miranda street, Miss May D. Patterson became the bride of Irving D. Roach.

Miss Patterson is a native of Iowa, and only in this country on a visit. She met Mr. Roach while they were both students at McAllister College. St. Faul. The bride is a charming and bright girl, and also possesses a sweet voice. Mr. Roach is also a native of Iowa, but has been a resident of Los Angeles for some time. He is a son of D. L. Roach of Custer street.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white chiffon over white peau de sole, with garnitures of old point lace. The maid of honor, Miss Laura B. Potter, was becomingly gowned in a dainty frock of pink chiffon, and carried pink carnations. The wedding was a pink and green affair, and rather went out of the ordinary white wedding in this respect. Under a canopy of green smilax, and kneeling on a mat of dainty blush roses, surrounded by clusters of pink roses, the ceremony was performed.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Roach of No. 438 Custer avenue entertained in honor of their son and daughter with a reception to about twenty of their friends. In honor of the occasion the house was made bright with cut flowers and ferns and potted plants. Late in the evening a supper was served. The happy pair will leave the end of the week for Cananea, Mex., where Mr. Roach is connected with the Cananea Consolidated Copper Company.

Ross Garden of Giris.

Miss Belle Coulter's bridesmaids have the distinction of being among the most attractive and beautiful of the most attractive and beautiful of the favorites on account of her horizons on a count of her horizons and dainty features, but at the same time Jane Campbell, who is a willowy brunette, with dreamy deep eyes, has her admirers and the rest are all as popular though with a winning grace all her own, and Miss Ince Moore, who is a cousin of the bride, is a tail and pretty girl with a winning grace all her own, and Miss Land by her sweet modesty, and attractive girlish way. Miss Ada Ford has been living in Arizona, but for the last month was the guest of Miss Adele Brodtbeck of West Seventh street. She is a striking girl and will be a valuable acquisition to the bride, is already one of the busiest of brides, for her trouseau is one to make any girl supremely happy and though it has been taking much of

The hall was made cosy and attractive with Turkish rugs and potted plants and dainty refreshments were served.

Pleasant at Home.

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilkes, who were lately married, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Lawrence of 1705 Hobart Boulevard were "at home;" Mrs. Eliza Tupper Wilkes and Mrs. William Green assisted in receiving. The house was made attractive and gay with bright bands of tissue paper and calla lilles, combined with ferns and paims. Pink and green were used in the refreshment room, where Mrs. H. L. Park and Mrs. Lem Umstead served punch. Misses Willamine Wilkes, Floy Gaipin and Roberts served the other refreshments. In the evening the Misses Dennan rendered music and more than two hundred guests were entertained.

Tennis Club.

The young ladies of the Tennis Club gave an enjoyable Valentine party at the home of Miss Neilie Davis, No. 661 Burlington avenue, last evening. The house was tastefully decorated in red and white; a curtain of hearts hung in the archway, between the reception hall and parlor. Ribbons of smilax were strung from the chandelier to the corners of the room and the walls were appropriately ornamented with tennis raquets. At the close of the evening dainty refreshments were served.

The invited guests were: Misses Susie Hopkins, Ethel Johnson, Bessle Seaman, Morene Cooper; Messrs. Paul White, George Harmon, Fred Nutting, Alvin Percival. Club members present were Misses Mabel Harris, Nellie Davis, Ethel Goodrich, Mabel Smith, Margaret Scarborough, Flora MacDonald, and Messrs. Forrest Stanton, Harry Goodwin, George Potter, Donald Goodwin, Roy Smith, Ardis Robertson and Ward Smith.
